

Assistant Professor, Professional/Technical Writing Department of English
University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

Tenure-track position. We seek an energetic scholar/teacher who has a strong research agenda and potential for solid publications. Especially desirable would be a demonstrated expertise in one or more of the following areas: professional writing theory; cultural, cross-cultural, and global issues; ethics; environmental rhetoric; and engineering or business writing.

The successful hire will teach and help develop face to face and online graduate seminars and undergraduate courses; assume a leadership role in the professional writing program's student organization and advisory board; contribute regularly to interdisciplinary and outreach initiatives across the department (with its specializations in rhetoric and composition, literature, modern studies, media and digital studies, and creative writing), college, and campus and in southeast Wisconsin; and eventually administer undergraduate and graduate programs in professional and technical writing. Salary dependent upon qualifications and experience.

PhD required within a year of hire; workplace experience is highly desirable.

UWM is an equal opportunity employer.